President's Awards

The President's Award is presented annually to graduating students who have overcome adversity and shown great perseverance in seeking an education at De Anza.

Sandra Rios has already worked with children, senior citizens and neighborhood recreation programs in San Jose. She'll be studying sociology at California State University, Monterey Bay, this fall and plans to continue working with people in need.

Rios, 22, is graduating with an associate degree in Liberal Arts and an associate degree for transfer in Sociology. To help cover expenses, Rios has worked part-time for the last several years – first at a children's zoo and then a senior center, before taking her current job with a city office that runs community programs in San Jose.

"What's kept me going is my family, my faith and the amazing people at De Anza College," she said. "I've had some really encouraging teachers here who have had a big impact on my life."

Raphael Villagracia has always been interested in the way government works. During his time at De Anza, Villagracia said, he's gained knowledge and experience to help make government work better.

Villagracia, 20, will graduate this year with an associate degree for transfer in Political Science and plans to attend the University of California, Berkeley, this fall. At De Anza, he served on the DASB Senate and the statewide Student Senate for California Community Colleges. He also worked on transportation and environmental issues for the Vasconcellos Institute for Democracy in Action (VIDA) and joined its Public Policy School.

In some places, people might expect college students to just show up for classes and go home, Villagracia said. "De Anza has given me so many opportunities to do the opposite of that. It's completely steered me the other way."

Andrea Yopez hadn't planned on going to college. She enrolled in a cosmetology program after finishing high school in San Jose. But she decided that she wanted to do more.

"I realized that if I could get through cosmetology school and earn a license, then I could go to college, too," she said.

Yopez, 23, is graduating with an associate degree in Communication Studies and will attend San Jose State University this fall. She wants to use her education to pursue a career in the business side of the beauty industry.

While going to school full-time, Yopez has worked as a peer mentor in the Puente program and also dances with a San Jose folklórico group.

Leia Yoon, 18, is graduating from De Anza with an associate degree in Liberal Arts after being home-schooled and finishing high school at age 15. She plans to attend the University of California, San Diego, this fall and then go on to veterinary school.

"I've always had a love for animals," she said. "I was just one of those kids who always wanted to be a veterinarian."

While at De Anza, Yoon was a vice president of the Honors Program, where she met a community of supportive friends and mentors. "It really kind of pushed me to go above and beyond," she said of the program.

When she becomes a veterinarian, Yoon said, she wants to provide affordable services for low-income pet owners.

Karl S. Pister Leadership Opportunity Award      Commencement Speaker

The Pister scholarship is awarded to community college students who transfer to the University of California, Santa Cruz, after overcoming adverse circumstances and demonstrating a commitment to assisting and improving the lives of others.

Elias Kamal, this year's winner of the Karl S. Pister Leadership Opportunity Award, is a well-known figure on campus. For the last two years, he has been the elected student representative on the Foothill-De Anza Community College District board of trustees.

The 21-year-old Kamal worked on numerous issues at De Anza and the district board, including opposition to a Valley Transportation Authority plan for increasing the price of the SmartPass transit program, used by many students.

Kamal said he came to De Anza because he heard about the college's high transfer rate and its civic engagement programs, such as the Vasconcellos Institute for Democracy in Action. "I knew I wanted to get involved in policy issues," he said, "and I thought, 'This is the place for me.'"

Last summer, Kamal volunteered at a Greek refugee camp for Afghan families seeking asylum in Europe. He is graduating with a degree in Liberal Arts and an associate degree for transfer in Political Science, and plans to major in Politics at the University of California, Santa Cruz.

President's Leadership Awards

Jim Nguyen, Acting President, Academic Senate

Karen Hunter, President, Classified Senate

Kalani Hettige, President, DASB

Anisa Chaudhry,

this year's commencement speaker, has been a student leader and a strong voice for equity and justice on campus.

Chaudhry, 20, is the winner of this year's A. Robert DeHart Memorial Scholarship, named for De Anza's founding president. She is graduating with an associate degree in Liberal Arts and a certificate in Leadership and Social Change, before transferring to the University of California, Berkeley, in the fall.

During her two years at De Anza, Chaudhry was president of the Muslim Students Association, served on the DASB Senate, helped organize the Student Voices United for Change conference, and spoke at several events focused on equity and civil rights.

She earned a 3.8 GPA while participating in other organizations and working part-time in the office of De Anza's Vasconcellos Institute for Democracy in Action (VIDA).

"I have never been much of a bystander," Chaudhry wrote in her application for the DeHart scholarship.

Chaudhry also participated in the VIDA Public Policy School, an intensive program that trains students to advocate on public issues and lobby elected officials. At the same time, she has pursued an interest in promoting mental health and healing emotional trauma that can result from acts of intolerance.

Rather than enter politics, Chaudhry says she wants to study psychology and work as a teacher or counselor with young people and others in underserved communities, while continuing to be involved in grassroots organizing and working for human rights.

"I want to work with people face to face, on the ground, in communities that need resources," she said.

Academic Regalia

The academic costume worn today can be traced back to the European universities of the 12th and 13th centuries, where scholars and clerics wore hoods and robes to stay warm in unheated buildings. Use of the academic gown came to the United States in 1754 with the founding of what is now Columbia University. Until after the Civil War, students at most universities wore caps and gowns daily while in residence.

Academic dress consists of the cap, gown and hood. The mortarboard is a head-hugging cap topped with a square flat surface from which a tassel hangs. Styling of the gown varies according to the degree of the wearer. An associate degree holder's gown displays the college colors. A bachelor's degree holder wears a simple black gown with long, pointed sleeves. Those with a master's degree wear a more elaborate gown with slit openings in the sleeves. The doctoral gown has bell-shaped sleeves, velvet panels down the front and around the neck, and three velvet bars on each sleeve. In the hoods, the color of the velvet border indicates the type of degree held, while the color of the lining designates the official colors of the institution granting it.

Colors symbolizing academic areas of study are:

Arts, Letters & Humanities	White
Business	Olive
Dentistry	Lilac
Economics	Copper
Education	Light Blue
Engineering	Orange
Fine Arts and Architecture	Brown
Journalism	Crimson
Law	Purple
